

Program for NVG PhD workshop on 26 November 2008

Time	Name	Title of presentation
11.00-11.45	Keynote speaker Prof. dr. Innes Cuthill	Why p-values are evil
11.45-12.30	Prof. dr. Carel ten Cate	Beyond observer bias: Niko Tinbergen and the colour preferences in herring gull chicks
12.30-13.30	lunch
13.30-14.00	Stefanie Lahaye	Effects of testosterone-implantation on reproductive behaviour, frequency of warble and colour of the cere in female budgerigars (Melopsittacus undulatus)
14.00-14.30	Anne Overduin-de Vries	Sneaky monkeys: How rhesus monkeys hide their mating behaviour from the dominant male
14.30-15.00	Larissa Mendoza Straffon	Is art an adaptation? Evolutionary approaches to the study of Pleistocene art
15.00-15.30	break
15.30-16.00	Greet De Coster	Ectoparasite-modulated egg yolk investment in relation to embryo sex and female quality
16.00-16.30	Wouter Halfwerk	Impact of traffic noise on reproductive behaviour in the great tit (Parus major)
16.30-17.00	Claudia Burger	Long-distance dispersal as a way to adapt to climate change in the pied flycatcher?